

Sara "SALLY" Hill's Eulogy or Tribute or Life History?
Pastor Randy, call it as you wish..

Sara "SALLY" Buchanan, all so known as "Momma Sally", "Sassy Sally", special mom, grandmother, sister, Aunt and true friend was born on 7-14-32 to Laberna and Loyal Buchanan. She was one of 7 brothers and sisters. She was born in Apollo, PA. She met and then married her high school sweetheart from Apollo PA, George Hill, who preceded her in death. They moved to AZ to start their life and family: 3 children, Tom, Laberna (Bernie), and Randy.

Sally was a stay at home mom for many years while her children were young. She was well known for her homemade spaghetti sauce with Rigatone's, hamburger taco's, tostada's, chili burro's, chicken with homemade noodles, and ham and beans. She was an outstanding baker, she shared her well known foods with many of us and then left a legacy to her family with recipes for: peanut brittle, apple, pecan and pumpkin pies, banana bread, poorman's cake, homemade buns and apple dumplings. She also was also well known for her pickled eggs with beets. One of her mainstay sandwiches was a peanut butter and pickle sandwich. If you haven't tried this sandwich, you can try one today. Sally guaranteed you would like it!

Those that know Sally very well...will tell you how "picky" she was about eating others foods/cooking and her dislike for particular foods.

Sally was also a seamstress. She made "jams/shorts" for her boys, Tom and Randy. Dresses and "bloomers" that matched for her daughter, Bernie. In the 1960's she worked for Sears Roebuck Company as a Division Manager in the Catalog mail order department. She worked in the Grade School Cafeteria at "Supai". Volunteered and worked at Voter Registration. She was a Girl Scout leader. She worked in the snack bar at the Supai Baseball games. She had an open door policy, allowing friends, family and foreign exchange students into her home. The family was very involved with the outdoors; camping, fishing and hunting. Of course she was the best camp cook.

She went to work for Motorola, where she worked for approximately 30 years. She was a "secretary" back then for 40 men. She received distinction for Motorola of the Month and was a two-time recipient. She knew how to control and keep those men in line!

She retired from Motorola and spent her spare time organizing get together's for all types of groups, one mainly being her Motorola friends. She attended regular Motorola Retirees' lunches and Christmas parties. Played poker with her friends from Motorola. Played in several Bunco groups. Played Canasta. She also volunteered at PV Hospital. She served many years on her Homeowners Association board. She crocheted many different types of blankets. Mainly baby blankets. She made crocheted hats for the homeless.

Describing more about the type of person Sally was: she was matriarch, a hard worker, feisty, a spitfire, had a funny wit about her, and enjoyed gambling & playing LCR. A collector of coins, delighted in a good rum and coke and margarita once in a while.

She would lend a helping hand to any one, mostly her own family; she babysat and in doing so, taught her grandchildren a few cuss words. Sally's pride and joy were her children, grandchildren and great grandchildren. She enjoyed traveling. She had a large circle of friends in all walks of life. She was always there in time of need. She would talk to any stranger. She loved family gatherings. Her favorite holiday, being Christmas and her favorite color was red.

Sally attended church, here at Northridge Community Church, with her son Randy, and daughter in law Patty, granddaughter Rachel and grandson Tanner. Tanner became part of the Northern Transit Worship Band, who is playing here today to honor his grandmother's wishes. Sally was known as the "Coffeehouse Grandma".

Sally's health started to decline early last year. She was greeted, cared for and then loved by many family members and professionals, in her home and in facilities:

Naming a few that was a vital part of her daily living: Her own children, Tami Buchanan Wake, (niece), Ceason Ray (granddaughter), Patty Hill, (daughter in law) "Saint" Al Garcia (son in law), Kristin Dodson, Allison Clover, Debbie Powers and Kathleen Ginn (very dear friend).
